

Social Media Policy and Guidelines

Introduction

Social media is the term commonly given to website and online tools which allow users to interact with each other in some way – by sharing information, opinions, knowledge and interests.

Social media involves building communities or networks, encouraging participation and engagement.

Social media encompasses Facebook, X (Twitter), YouTube, Myspace, Wikipedia, podcasts, emails, texts etc.

St Swithun's Band utilises social media as a means of communication and to promote the organisation. The band should keep a list of all it's social media groups along with it's delegated moderator

St. Swithun's Band Bridport's use of social media

Website: St Swithun's Band Bridport has a website www.stswithunsband.co.uk which has content such as news and photos that we encourage members to view and share with friends and family.

Facebook page: We also have a Facebook page www.facebook.com/stswithunsband for publicising band news and events to as wide and public an audience as possible. Again we would encourage members who use Facebook to 'like' the page and 'share' content with as many other Facebook users as possible to spread the word about how great St Swithun's Band Bridport is.

YouTube page: St Swithun's Band Bridport has a number of recordings for anyone to listen to.

WhatsApp: All bands use Whatsapp as a means of communication to and between players regarding engagements, rehearsals, music, social events and any other business of the bands

Emails and Texts: Emailing is the key method of electronic communication between, primarily the bandmasters and St Swithun's Band Bridport members. Occasionally texts may also be used as a means of communication particularly if out at an event. As emails in particular can have a habit of unintentionally being forwarded to unintended recipients due regard should be given to the policies and guidelines when using email. Particular care should be taken if you need to communicate anything that may be of a sensitive or private nature. If you do receive an email that contains content of sensitive or private nature that is clearly not intended for you please do the respectful thing and delete it immediately unless you consider it to be a matter of serious concern in which case please raise this privately with the St Swithun's Band Bridport Chairperson or another appropriate member of the committee.

Principles These principles apply to your participation in the social media used by St Swithun's Band Bridport and any other social media you use in your own private capacity in the context of you being a member of St Swithun's Band Bridport and set out the standard of behaviour expected in representing St Swithun's Band Bridport. You should participate in the use of social media in the same way as you would with other media or public forums such as giving public presentations or speaking at public events.

We encourage positive representation and promotion of St Swithun's Band Bridport and therefore welcome members with building upon this through use of social networking websites. You are representing St Swithun's Band Bridport and we trust you to act accordingly.

Guidelines Information published online can be accessed around the world within seconds and will be publicly available for all to see. Even information that was originally only intended to be seen by a select number of recipients has the potential to be shared, re-quoted or reposted including on other social networking sites. Comments on social media can remain in the public domain for a considerable length of time. As a member of St Swithun's Band Bridport;
